Active Assailant Response

The #1 Priority is to Get Yourself Out of Harm's Way.

Decide if you will AVOID, DENY, or DEFEND

If an active assailant is outside or inside your building you should:

- Remain calm and take cover.
- Call Campus Police or 911 (give the location, the type of event, description of the offender, number of victims if any, and their location).
- Try to warn others as discreetly as possible.
- Proceed to a room and lock or barricade the doors and windows, turning off lights and closing blinds.
- Silence cell phones or other devices that emit sounds.
- Keep yourself out of sight, avoid windows, and take adequate cover/protection, i.e., behind concrete walls, under desks, cabinets, etc.
- Wait patiently until a uniformed police officer or a campus official known to you provides an all-clear.

If an active assailant enters your office or classroom, you should:

- Try to remain calm and keep others around you calm.
- Try not to do anything that would provoke the shooter. If there is no possibility of escape or hiding, only as a last resort when it is imminent that your life is in danger, should you make a personal choice to attempt to negotiate with or overpower the assailant.
- Call Campus Police or 911 if possible and provide the information listed above.
- If the active shooter leaves the area, barricade or proceed to a safer location.

Disruptive behavior can include any of the following: Verbal Abuse, Physical Abuse or Threats, Willful Damage to Personal or College Property, Use of Drugs and Alcohol on College Premises, Harassment, or Disruption of a Classroom, Administrative Office, or a Campus Activity.

- On the first floor of a building along interior hallways and offices.
- In restrooms (on all floors if there is not sufficient time to move to lower floors).
- Avoid windows and skylights and close all doors to reduce flying debris.

If there is no time to evacuate, persons should seek shelter under heavy furniture, desks, or in a closet to avoid injuries from debris (look around your area and select your shelter area after reading this procedure).
