- Click “Generate Schedules” to view schedule options. You must click Generate Schedules to refresh your options every time you edit your checkmarks.

Hover your cursor over the magnifying glass icons to preview each option. (Pay attention to things like when you start and end each day, how many classes per day, how long are the breaks between classes, and how many days per week have classes.)

Option: “+Add Break” to block specific days of the week and hours of the day you are not available for classes (work, sports practice, avoiding morning or night classes, etc).

Option: Use the “Change” options at the top of the screen to filter preferred Instructional Methods and Part of Term to narrow your search results.

Click “View” to review the detailed schedule of your choice and move forward to step 7.

Helpful Hints

If you see a weekly breakdown graph, you are viewing a schedule that includes partial term courses. These courses move through the material at a faster pace than the standard full-term courses.

Online: Asynchronous courses do not have scheduled Days & Locations.

Virtual Class: Synchronous online courses have scheduled live virtual class meetings.

Hybrid courses include a combination of instructional methods. This could be a combination of synchronous/asynchronous, on-campus/asynchronous, or on-campus/synchronous. Pay close attention to the Days & Locations and Campus to know how to attend class.

Pay attention to how many seats are open for each course. If you only see 1 or 2 seats remaining, you want to register quickly!
